Each of us inevitable
Each of us limitless Each of us with his or her right upon the earth
Each of us allow'd the eternal purports
of the earth,
Each of us here as divinely as any is here.

My Christmas

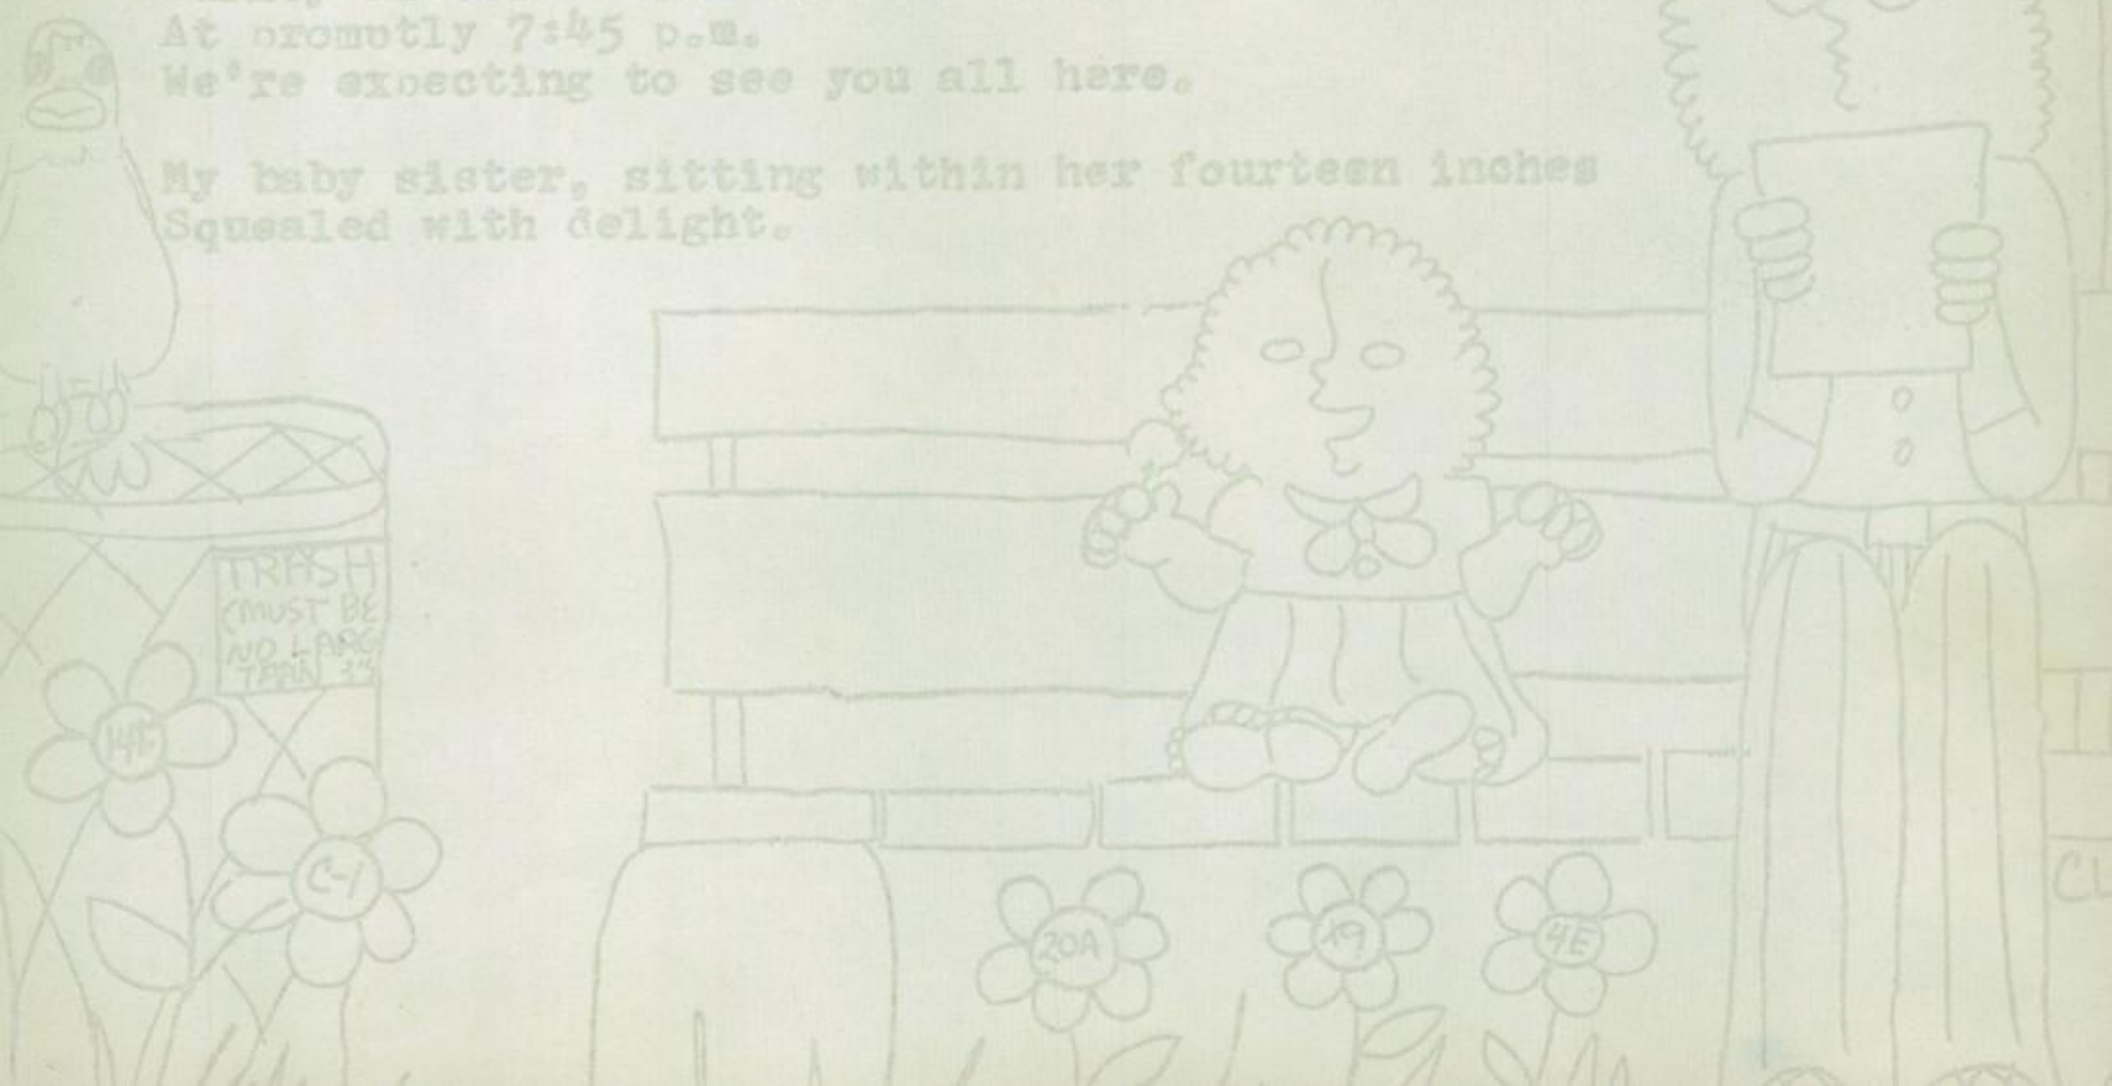

Dennis Rivard

I found my area
I found my corner of my area
I found my bench
I found my seventeen inches of the bench
I sat down
I found my leaflet
In my own leaflet holder.
They had printed it up in big letters this year
So that the old men could read it Without whipping out their magnifying glasses And hearing the children giggle at them.
I opened the leaflet and read---
With my regulation sized fingernail Scratching my regulation sized ear lobe--- the big printing said:

Good morning, friends
This year we have decided to celebrate Christmas on the eighteenth of October--- Nine days later than last year.
This year our tree will be A beautiful bright yellow one With a silver, regulation sized angel
At the top of the brown plastic center pole.
Some of the other districts Are using a silver star on their center pole
But after many long discussions on the subject Your Best Friend has ruled In favor of an angel--- He says his ancestors were Catholics.
This year you may all gather in the Big House,
In your places, to celebrate all together.
Turkey flavored food will be served At promptly 7:45 p.m.
We're expecting to see you all here.

My baby sister, sitting within her fourteen inches Squealed with delight.

The windmill of my soul / thrown wide open to the sun whitice

You give but little when you give of your possessions. It is when you give of yourself that you truly give.

Gibran

Home is heaven and orgies are vile,
But I like an orgy, once in a while.

SENIORS NO. 1

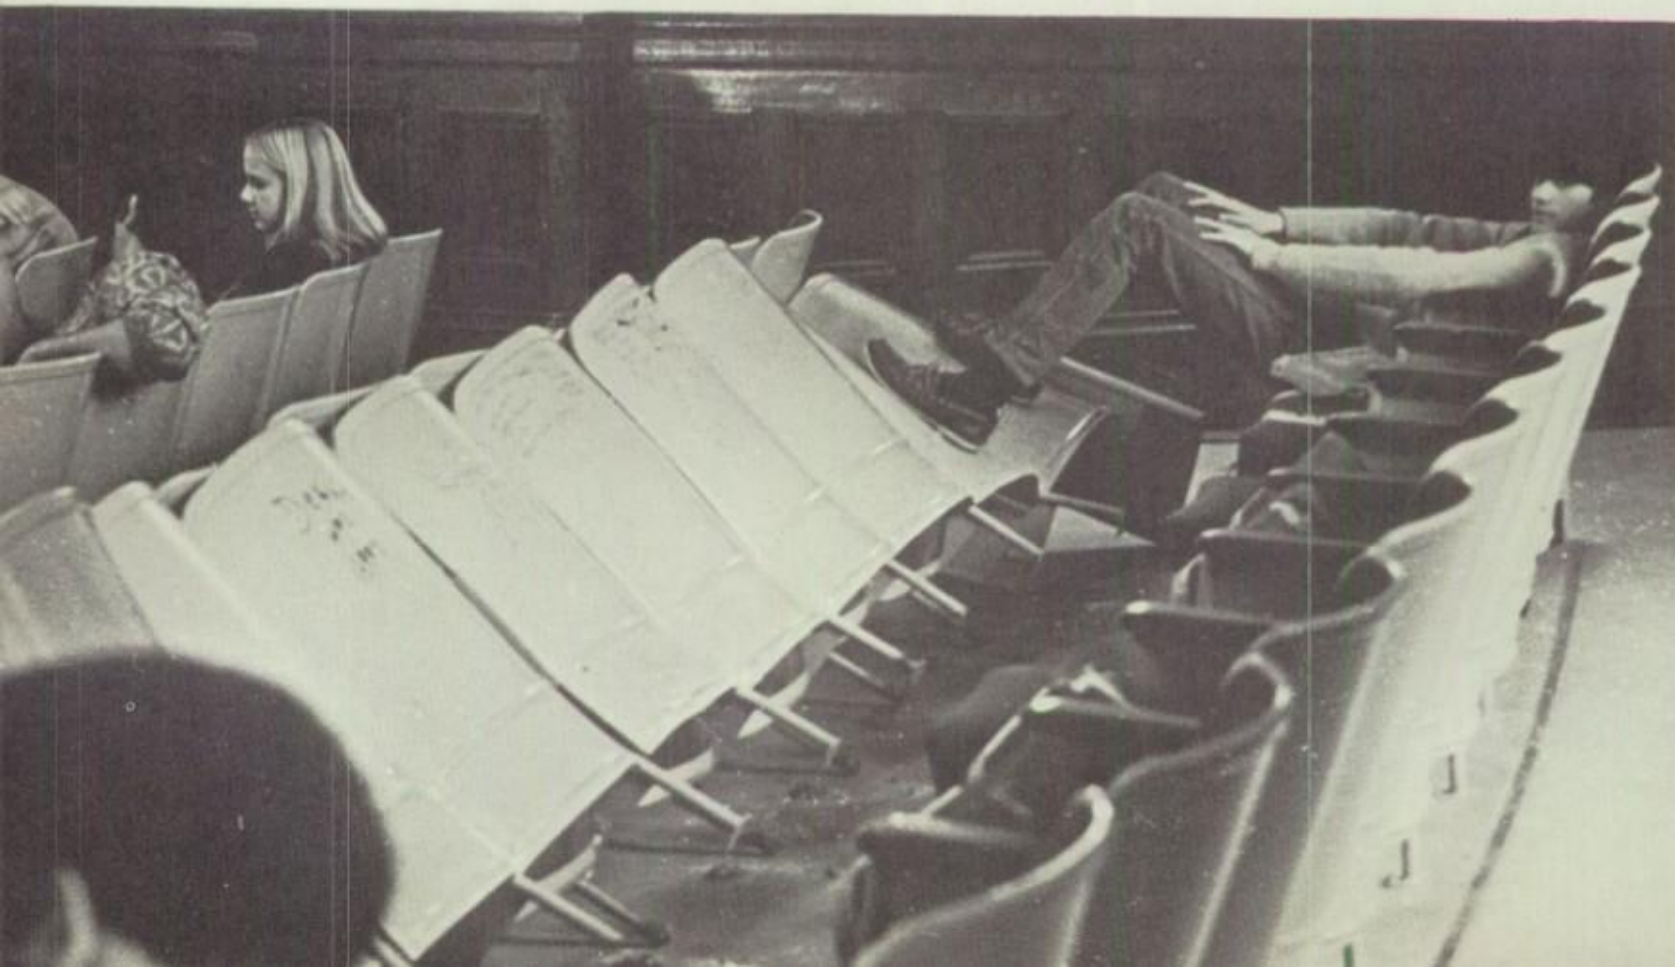

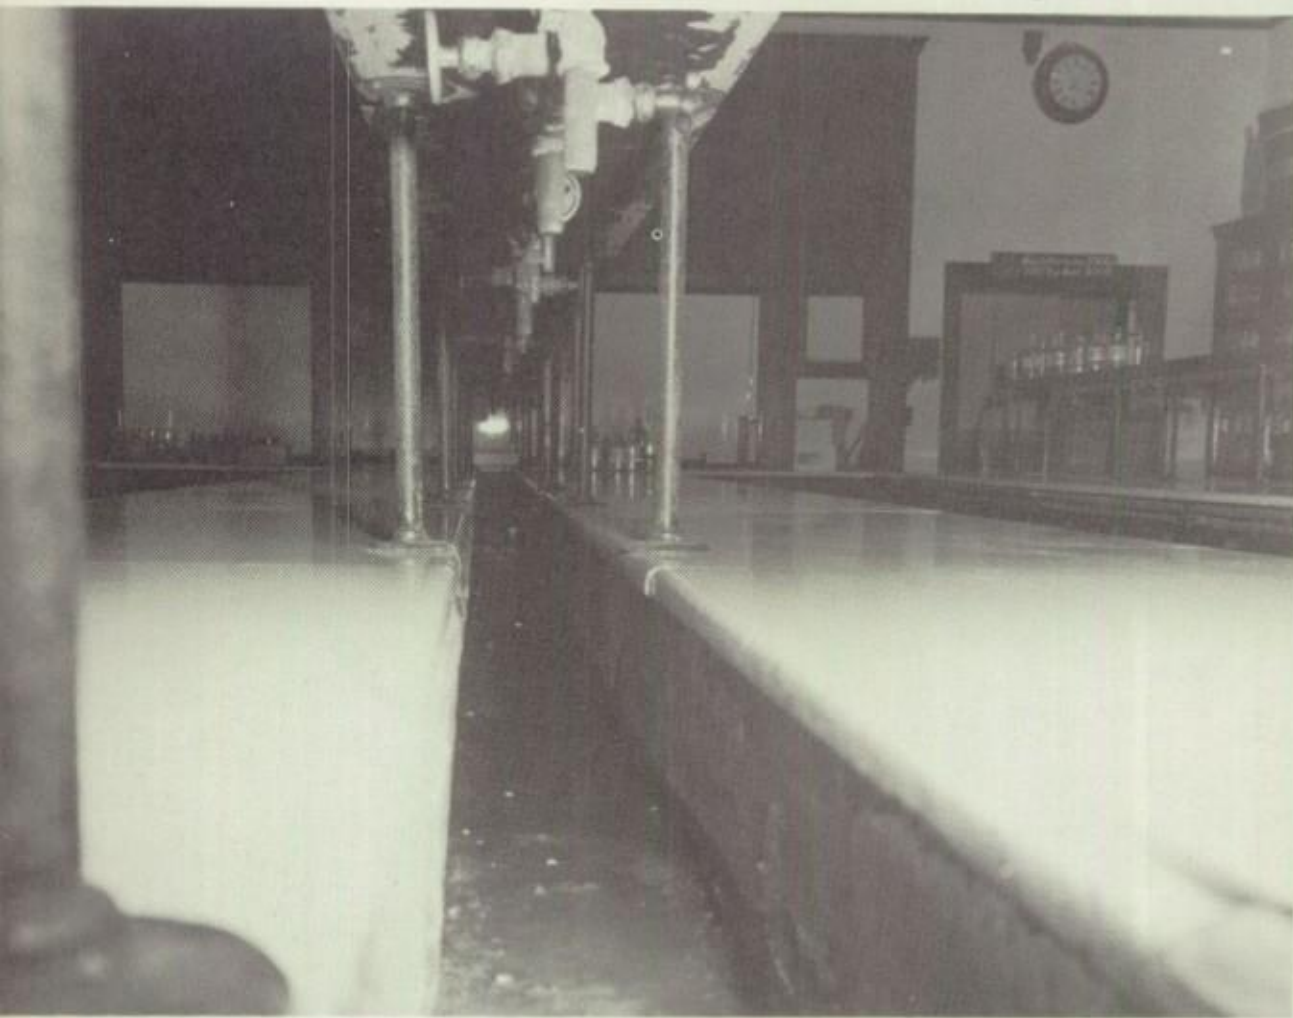

The sophomore editors of the Crimson Courier hereby take the shirts off their backs to the senior class of 1971, who, in terms of apathy, narrowmindedness, ignorance, class discrimination, and conceit, are indeed No. 1.

song of the open road afoot and light-hearted i take to the open road, healthy, free, the world before me, the long brown path before me leading wherever i choose.

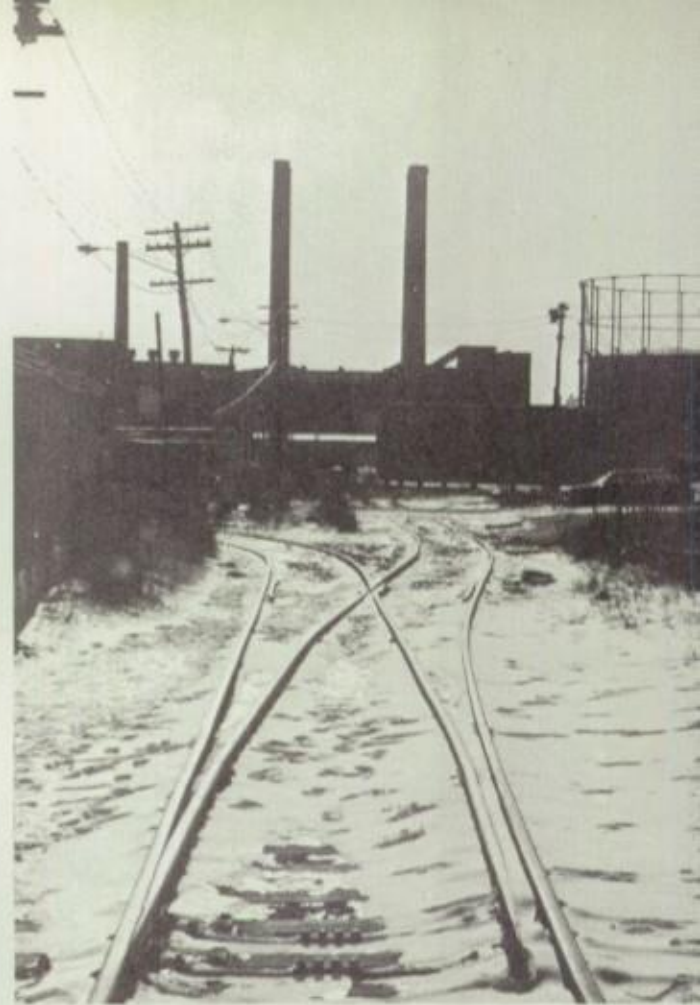

henceforth i ask not good fortune; i myself am good fortune, henceforth i whimper no more, postpone no more, need nothing, done with indoor complaints, libraries, querulous criticisms, strong and content i travel the open road.

the earth is sufficient,
i do not want the constellations any nearer, i know they are very well where they are,
i know they suffice for those who belong to them.

perhaps unless the billboards fall i'll never see a tree at all — to live in hearts we leave behind is not to die

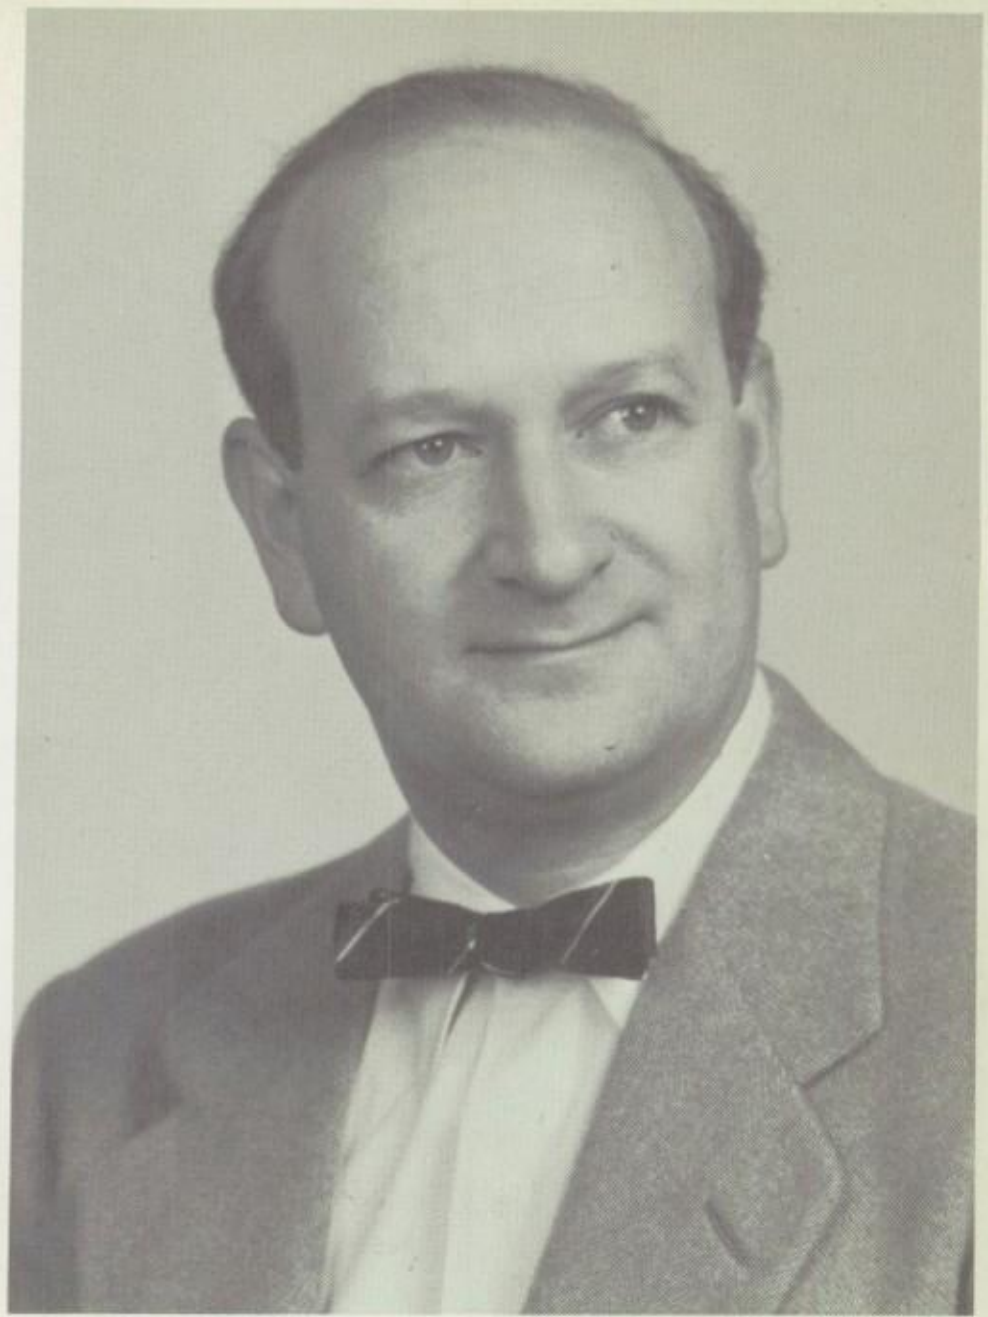

campbell

As an educator, Phil Bronspiegel was more concerned with the "why", the human element, rather than with just the "what" or "how". His philosophy concerning the new high school was to create a building that would correspond to the needs of the individual student, rather than having the students adapt to the demands of the structure. Phil set the tone for the new high school. His inspiration and enthusiasm will always motivate those associated with it. The new New Bedford High School will truly be a living memorial to Philip Bronspiegel.

Paul Rodriques

Mr. Bronspiegel was an educator in the true sense of the word. He devoted his life to the educational improvement of his community.

Melver C. Felton

Mary Sullivan was a woman who always liked to laugh and whose laughter always made other people happy.

Beverly Bizzarro

Mary was a beautiful person whom everyone loved. Her dedication to teaching serves as an example to us all.

Ida F. Cohen

For the faculty at New Bedford High who knew Sully and her quiet manner, we mourn her death deeply. Mary was a dear friend, a devoted teacher and truly a nice person. Enough good could not be said of a woman who had only good to say of everyone.

THE EPITAPH

Here rests his head upon the lap of Earth
A Youth to Fortune and to Fame unknown.
Fair Science frown'd not on his humble birth,
And Melancholy mark'd him for her own.

Large was his bounty, and his soul sincere, Heav'n did a recompense as largely send:
He gave to Mis'ry all he had, a tear,
He gain'd Heav'n ('twas all he wish'd) a friend.

No farther seek his merits to disclose,
Or draw his frailties from their dread abode.
(There they alike in trembling hope repose,
The bosom of his Father and his God.

Thomas Gray

Dear Friends,

The reason I came to America was to experience a way of living different from the one I was used to in Europe, to be confronted with new situations, new people and new ideas.

I expected to find here quite another kind of people but I soon discovered that European stereotypes of the Americans are false. I did not live among "Americans" but just among other human beings.

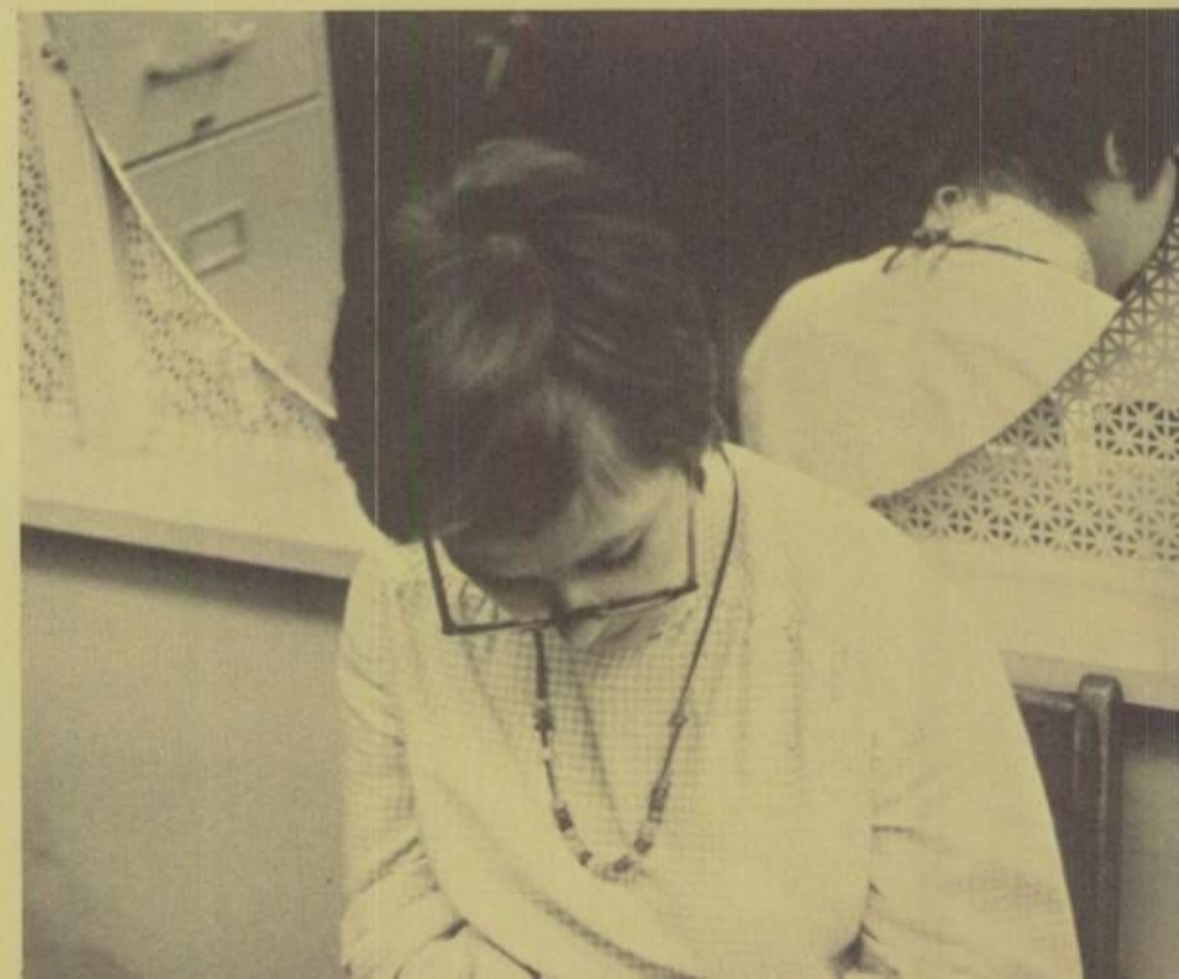

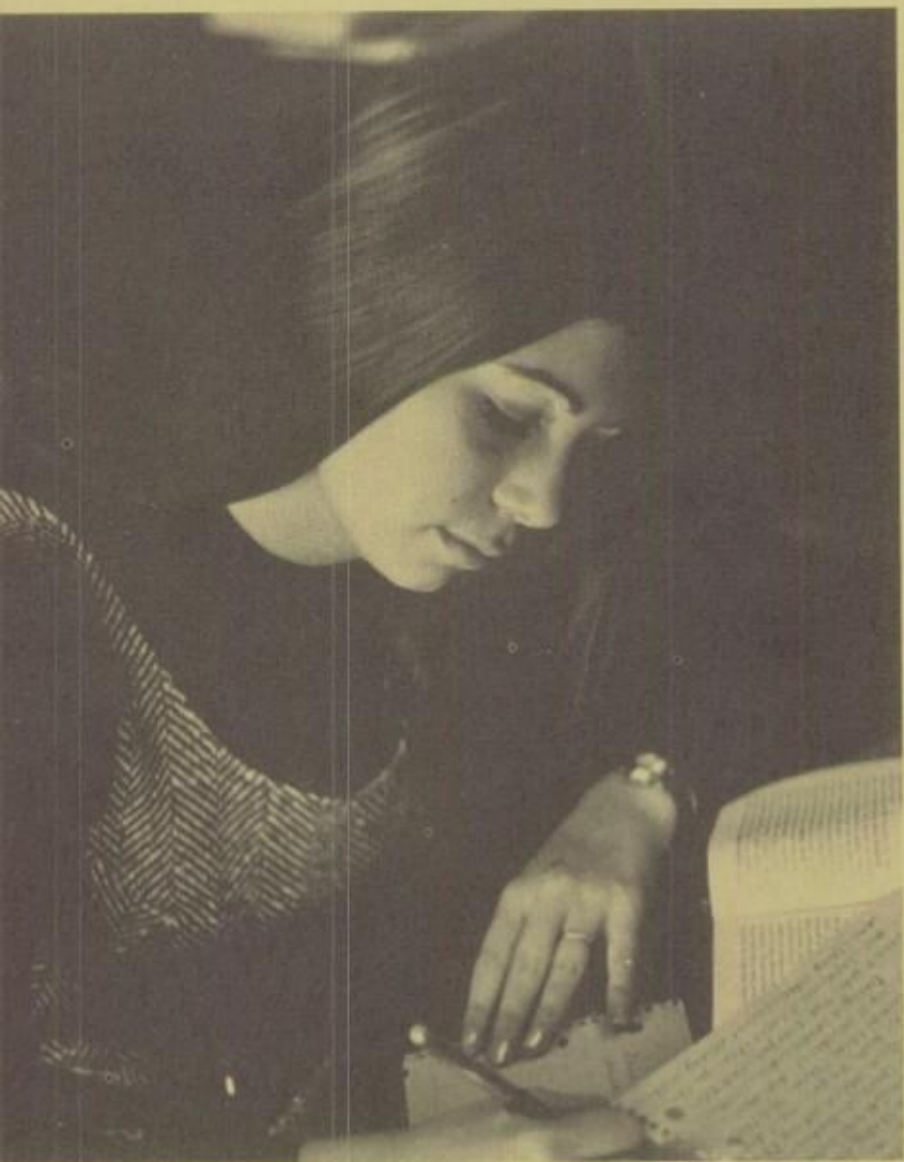

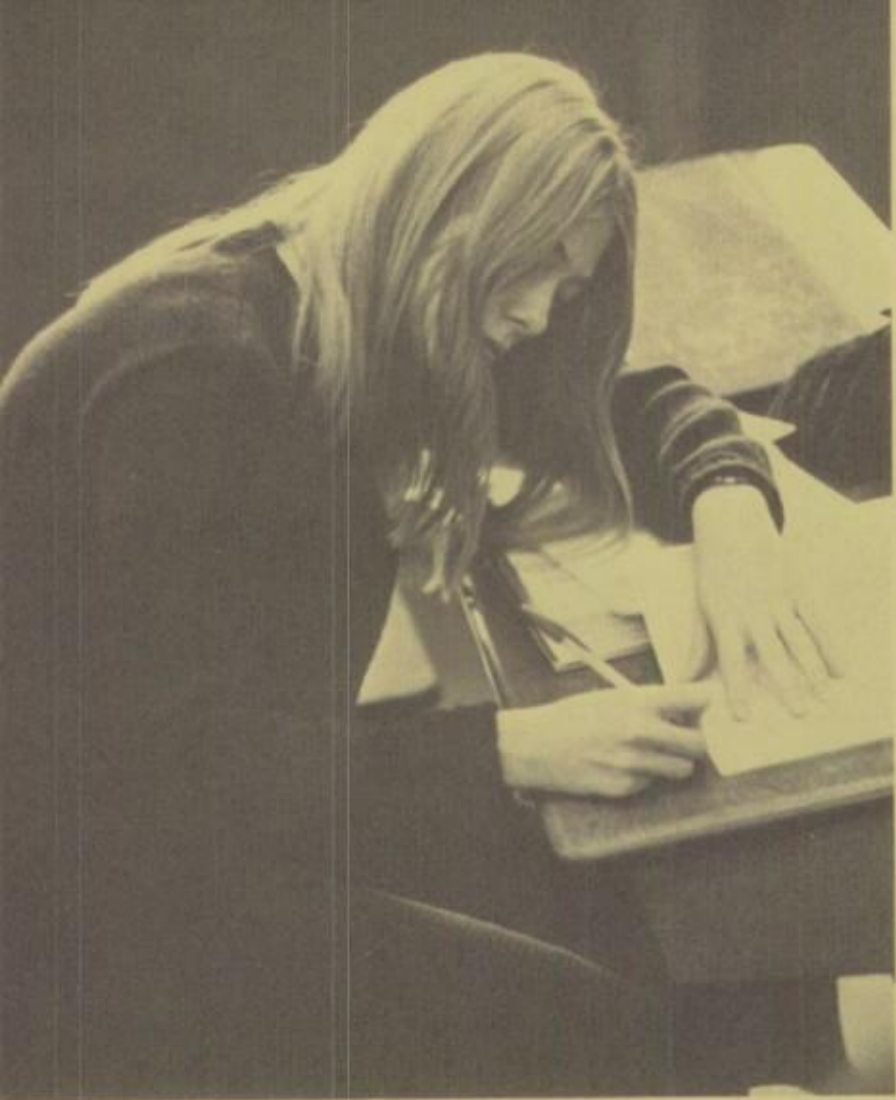

Since I came here, the word America doesn't imply only Vietnam, drugs, riots and air pollution. It also means happiness, peace and love.

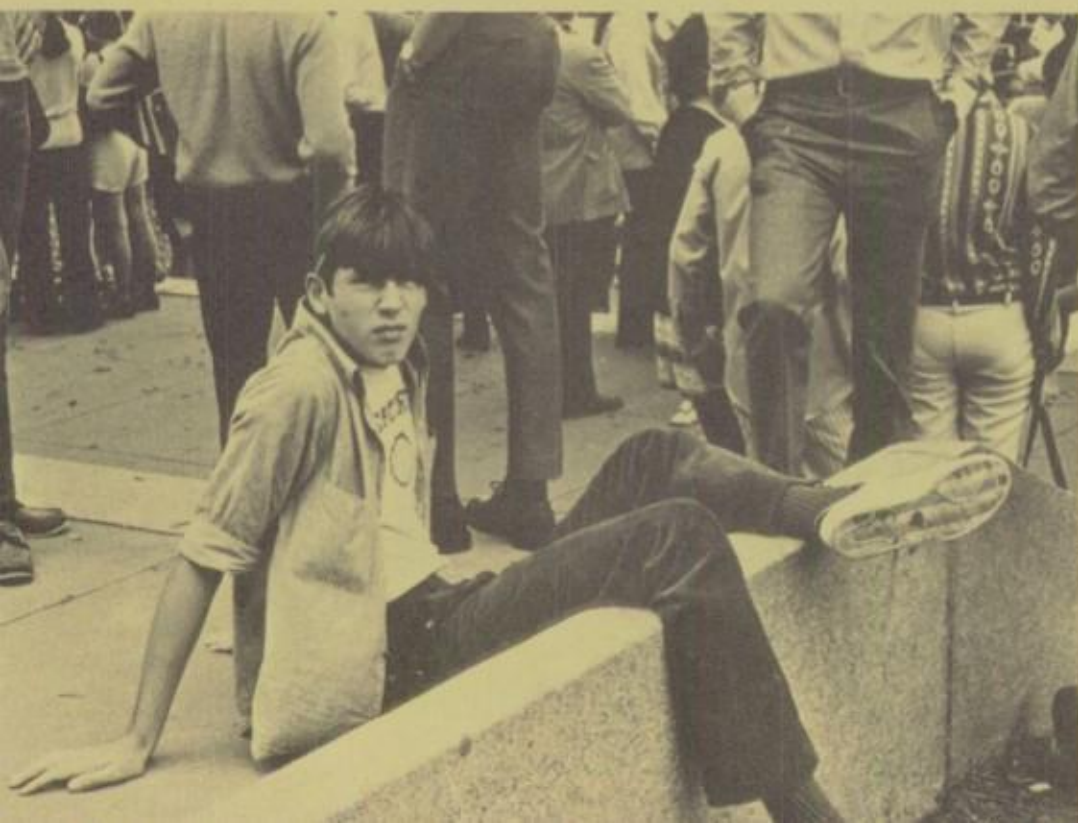

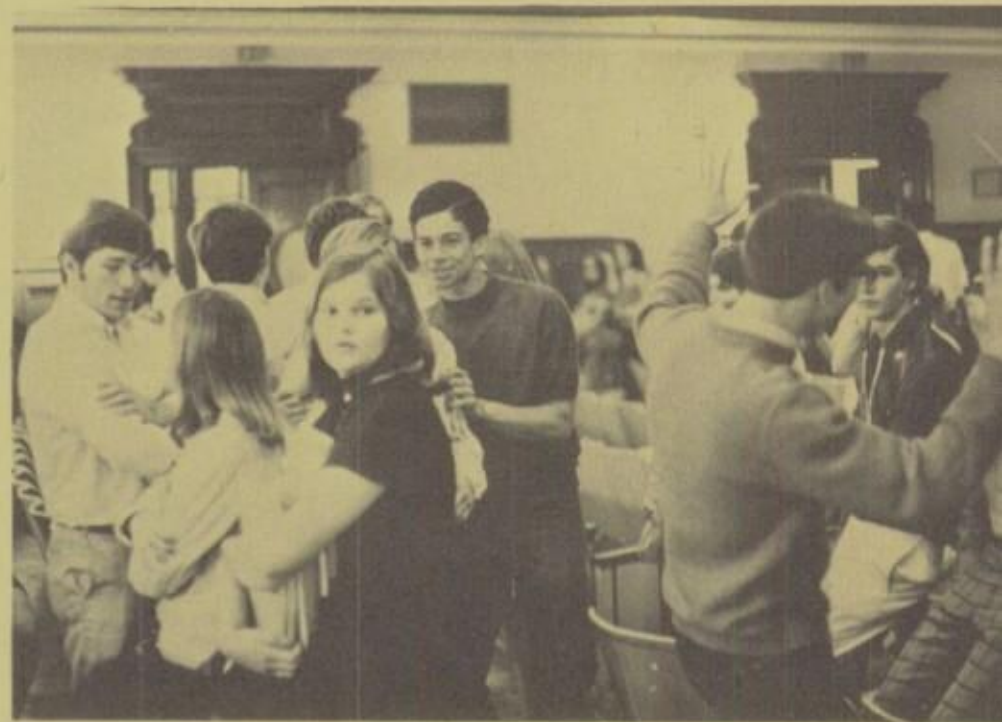

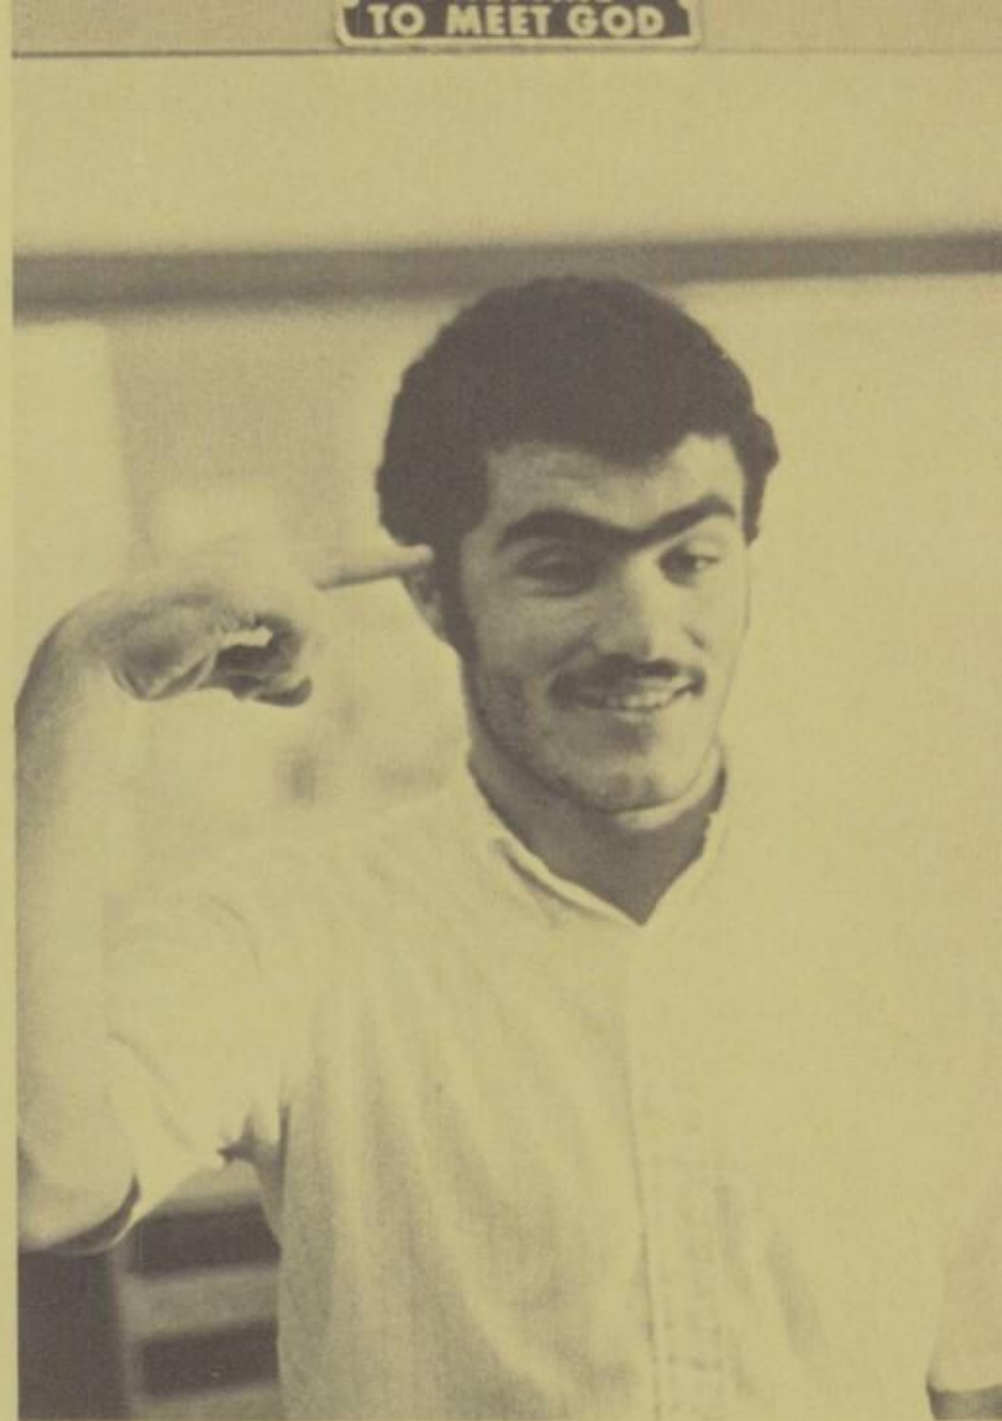

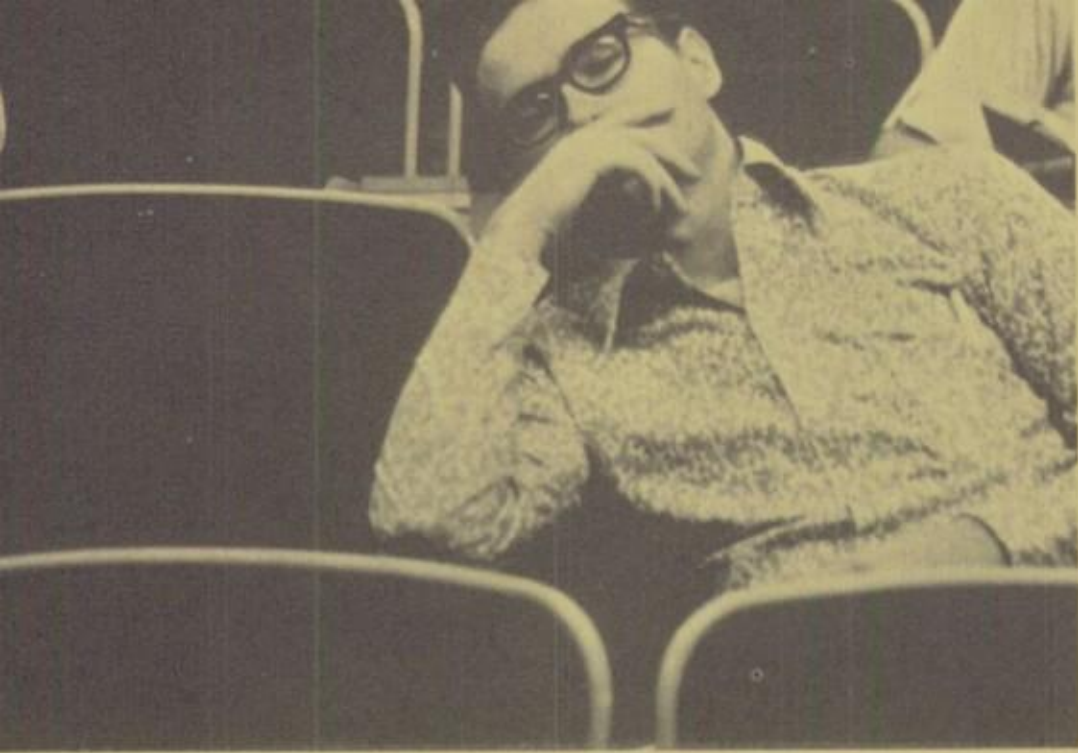

I realized how many foolish prejudices all the nations in the world have against each other.

Everything I experienced during this time has a meaning for me, the good and the bad. I've learned much from all of you, and I thank you so very much for this year.

Peace,

Marlies van der Blijden

we'll never forget . . .

girls wearing slacks for the first time . . . winning all those athletic titles . . .
s-s-s-s-ing with the rest of the kids so they wouldn't know you were a sophomore, too . . . when Mr. Luchetti and Mr. Southworth were the principal . . . Mike Ferreira's artistic endeavors . . . tripping over your prom gown and ripping the back . . . the emptiness after the seniors left after class day . . . today's assembly is sponsored by — with the assistance of Mr. Maty . . . the bombs outside ROTC . . . counting credits to see if you're going to graduate
. . . "hey, there's an assembly — maybe we'll get out of 3rd!" . . . finding a parking space . . . a valentine for Mrs. Kontanis . . . Wednesday report cards on Friday or Monday — but never Wednesday . . . the 1968 yearbook who got their adjectives from the '67 book . . . getting kicked off the track for watching the GAMS rehearse . . . Mr. Callanan's knowledge of New Bedford . . . "which girls' room is unlocked?" . . . sanding boards for Mr. Maty . . . the sign-out book . . . marching into assemblies to the strains of old no. 4 . . . Neal Wall's biting sarcasm . . . the extraordinarily good impersonations at the Durfee rally
. . . our anger when we entered Cambodia and the sick feeling in the pit of your stomach when we waltzed into Laos . . . solid geometry . . . selling pens and thesis covers and book covers and candy bars and stationery and fruitcake and pins and napkins and stickers and posters and newspapers and tickets of all kinds (and yearbooks) . . . Mr. Felton, who gave us all a number . . . Norm Sylvia's gait . . . hoping the business machine won't blow up after you pressed the wrong button . . . standing on a tilt behind the backboard because you made the game late . . . Miss Stocker's room . . . hot water and peppermint . . . wondering which athlete's gonna trip . . . Ted Calnan's sideburns . . .
"we qualified for Tech!" . . . Mr. Boyzvert . . . sex education in rm. 128 . . .
the seats in the back of the cafeteria . . . George Newman . . . storming Guidance to tell them you got three lunches and Portuguese V . . . Mr.
Bonner's trans-Atlantic communique . . . all the rumors about the 27-page, colorless, pictureless, paperback yearbook printed on math paper (started, incidentally, but a few of the rowdier members of the editorial staff of the Crimson Log) . . . Rosalie Ferreira's enthusiasm . . . Horseneck Beach on class day — or any day . . . "Please excuse the interruption. There is a blue chevvy . . ." . . . excellents, brouhahas and blehehes . . . "how long can you get suspended for if you threaten a teacher?" . . . the locker in the basement when, your homeroom is on the third floor — that's 127 stairs . . . Miss Winn's guidance . . . the French department . . . Mr. Saltzman's army of venders, typists, photographers, sticker-sellers and all-around slaves . . . the optimism of the first day of school and the relief of the last . . .

and now a word...
